G.O.Ms.No.153

Dated:08-08-2016

Read the following:

1. Revenue (DM) Department’s U.O.No.518/DM2/2015, Dt:20.05.2015.

ORDER:

In the reference cited, the Revenue Department has stated that Andhra Pradesh is highly vulnerable to natural disasters and not able to establish and institutionalize the disaster management system in the state. Disaster management, in scientific manner was not given required priority by the Government for a long time. The response towards disasters has usually been ad-hoc, which has limited the effectiveness of action taken in minimizing the losses and mitigating the risks in the longer term. The Andhra Pradesh State Disaster Management Authority (SDMA) at present has only one Deputy Collector Grade Officer without any powers, resources and staff. Given the experience of the recent HUD HUD cyclone, the state needs to learn and move towards strengthening the SDMA, so that in future the State is in a position to effectively handle any disaster. The SDMA would also implement efficiently long term measures towards disaster risk reduction.
